

Dear Hiring Manager,

Subsplash's mission to build The Ultimate Engagement Platform resonates deeply with my passion for creating impactful, user-centric software. I am eager to contribute my front-end development expertise to your innovative team.

My experience building responsive web applications with React and TypeScript, coupled with a proven ability to deliver features and fix bugs efficiently, directly addresses your need for world-class client-side experiences. I've consistently focused on writing maintainable code and actively participating in code reviews to ensure quality, mirroring your priorities for writing and maintaining quality software.

I am particularly drawn to Subsplash's commitment to excellence and innovation. I am excited to bring my collaborative spirit and rapid learning capabilities to your Product & Engineering team. I welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to your continued success.

Sincerely,

Sai Sushma Reddy Madireddy
